Strengthening Tourism Vocational Training Institutions (Regional)

Locations

Details

Project	TBD
Related Projects	-
Type	Loan
Sector	Industry and Trade
Country	Regional
Start	2016
End	-
Status	Ongoing
Last Edited	05 Jul 2021

Funding

in US$('000)

Confinancing Source: 7.5M EUR (8.6 m USD) from Luxembourg; 7.5M EURO (8.6m USD)from Switzerland, In-kind contribution from Lao PDR

ADB	-
Government	-
Cofinancing	70,000
Total	70,000

- ADB
- Government
- Cofinancing

Photos

The Greater Mekong Subregion's outstanding cultural and natural assets attract more than 60 million international visitors per year.

Photo Credit: iStock

Tourists shop for items at the sprawling street market in Bangkok's Banglamphu district. Centered around Khao San Road, this neighborhood attracts the largest number of foreign tourists in the capital.
Source: ADB Flickr

Locals enjoy the greenery and open space afforded by the Sanam Luang, a public square just opposite Bangkok's Grand Palace. The Thai Fine Arts Department has listed Sanam Luang as a historical site in 1977.
Source: ADB Flickr

An ehtnic minority woman demonstrates traditional weaving at a cultural expo in Bangkok. Thailand's ethnic makeup is heavily obscured due to the hefty pressure of Thaification, Thai nationalism, and social pressure.
Source: ADB Flickr

Tourists and local passengers are waiting for an approaching BTS skytrain.
Source: ADB Flickr

Khaokoh Talaypu Resort, an example of eco-tourism. It is is located in the Khao Kho district, Phetchabun, Thailand.
Source: ADB Flickr

Mrs.Sukamol Jitsamorn, owner of Amazone Organic Farm in Phetchabun, Thailand, presents her finished products.
Source: ADB Flickr

Ho Chi Minh Square is the park in front of the city hall with the statue of Ho Chi Minh as tourists destination.
Source: ADB Flickr

Source URL:

https://www.greatermekong.org/projects/projects/strengthening-tourism-vocational-training-institutions-regional-5051

Disclaimer:

The boundaries, colors, denominations, and any other information shown on this map are not necessarily authoritative and do not imply any judgment on the legal status of any territory, or any endorsement or acceptance of such boundaries, colors, denominations, or information. The map uses open source interactive mapping tools commonly used by other international organizations.